VF&T Cloud Solutions

Comprehensive consulting and services for taking your business to the cloud

We live in a time of transformation, where the accelerating rate of technological change is forcing businesses and organizations to reevaluate how they compete in the marketplace. Increasingly, the cloud is an essential tool for organizations that wish to remain competitive. It enables incredible new ways to connect and interact with your customers, partners, and employees.

Whether you're just beginning to consider what advantages the cloud might hold for your business – or you need help managing a complex cloud initiative – VF&T Cloud Solutions offers the resources necessary to answer your questions and streamline cloud deployment and management. We're a team of vendor-agnostic cloud experts with years of consulting and implementation expertise, ready to help you through every step in your journey.

Simply lifting your applications to the cloud may not be enough. We know that a thorough understanding of your applications, your workloads, and how they drive your organizational process are all key to a successful cloud engagement. Throughout the engagement process we'll work closely with you to review and address your concerns around cloud security, performance, cost models and work to deliver a uniquely tailored solution to support your requirements and workloads.
